

The Cistercian Informer

Volume 47 | Issue 1

www.CistercianInformer.com

INFORMER MEETS INTERNET

In the 1970's, a group of Cistercian students started a publication for their voices to be heard. Nearly forty years later, we are finally bringing those voices to the Internet.

You can now access The Informer from anywhere that you have a decent Wi-Fi connection: from the school library, or your parents' house, or a fast food establishment (like the Chipotle in which this article was written). And the interaction doesn't stop there: you can now share your opinion in a comments section, reader author bios, click on hyperlinks, and more.

For four decades, students have gathered together to write for this publication to say what wasn't being said anywhere else. In 2015, the object remains the same, but the opportunity has changed. The Informer is a student-run newspaper with the same dedication to news, humor, and this school that it has always been; the only difference is that now you can click on it.

Read the full article and others on the smartboard in Founders' Hall.

Recent Articles:

- Career Profile: Meet Ryan Shrimme, '96 (The Man, The Myth, The Actor)
- College Profile: University of Tulsa
- Faculty Profile: Striding for Excellence (Meet Mr. Adam Hauser)
- Faculty Profile: Meet The New Form Master, Fr. Justin
- The Nest: Community Service at Cistercian During 2015
- The Nest: Top 5 Halloween Costumes for You and Your Ex-Girlfriend
- The Nest: Homecoming Season: What Would Our Teachers Wear
- News: The Donald Trump

BY THE NUMBERS

Years it took to get
The Informer online

47

Average attendance
at Informer meet-

2.5

Views of the website
in the first week

2,190

Informer's likes on Facebook

116

Girls who dig high school journalists

100%